

Regional Institute of English, Sector 32 C, Chandigarh

Under the series of Workshops on Basics of Research and Dissertation Writing is organizing

Towards Interdisciplinarity in Research

Prof. Rajneesh Arora
Director
EFLU-Lucknow
Resource Person

Prof. Rajneesh Arora, Ph.D. (Panjab University, Chandigarh) is Director, English and Foreign Languages University, Lucknow Campus and a Professor in the Department of Linguistics and Contemporary English at the Campus. His doctoral research is in the area of discourse analysis of drama. He was awarded British Council Hornby scholarship for his MA in Language Teaching (Applied Linguistics) in the University of Lancaster, UK in 2003-2004 and was a Visiting Fellow in the Centre for Applied linguistics in the University of Warwick in 2008. He also has a PGDTE and an M.Litt. English (Linguistics and Phonetics) from CIEFL Hyderabad. He has written two textbooks and about 20 articles in books and journals. His current interests include critical discourse analysis, pragmatics, language of advertising, and history of English language teaching in India.

Click here for registration

Date: 15th September, 2020

Time: 11:00 a.m

Meeting URL: <https://meet.google.com/ccb-qgev-zmw>

Convener: Dr. Vandana Lunyal, Director

Coordinator: Dr. Jyoti Singh, Associate Professor